Jennifer Hillman represents investment companies (including mutual funds, closed-end funds and exchange-traded funds), investment advisers, financial institutions and broker-dealers in connection with various regulatory, compliance, investment servicing and transactional issues. She counsels investment management clients in all aspects of legal representation, including preparing regulatory filings, drafting and reviewing registration statements and proxy solicitation materials, and researching various securities and corporate law issues.

Jennifer received her J.D. from Villanova University School of Law, where she was a staff writer for the Villanova Law Review. Most recently, Jennifer worked as an Associate Counsel in the Office of the General Counsel at The Vanguard Group, Inc. Prior to law school, Jennifer was an educator with Teach for America, working in under-resourced schools in Tennessee.
