

Amanda M. Kita

Associate

Malvern, PA

484.323.6434

akita@stradley.com

Amanda Kita concentrates her practice in the areas of estate, tax and business planning, as well as estate and trust administration, with an interest in estate planning for cryptocurrency holders. She primarily handles trust and estate administration and Orphans' Court litigation for individuals, families and business owners.

Prior to joining Stradley Ronon, Amanda worked as an associate at another Pennsylvania law firm, where she focused her practice on Special Needs Trusts. After law school, Amanda clerked for the Hon. Jay J. Hoberg, the Court of Common Pleas of Lancaster County, Orphans' Court Division.

Amanda graduated from The Pennsylvania State University, Dickinson School of Law and received her B.A. in Interdisciplinary Studies, Linguistics from The College of William & Mary.

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

- Speaker, Annual Autism Conference, La Salle University
- Presenter, "Montgomery County Orphans' Court Local Rules," Montgomery County Bar Association

PUBLICATIONS

- Co-author, "Bitcoin Inheritance Planning: Secure Key Management & Legal Title Transfer Strategies," Onramp and Stradley Ronon

IN THE COMMUNITY

Amanda is an active member of the Philadelphia Estate Planning Council (PEPC) and a member of the PEPC Ethics Committee.

Amanda and her family own and operate Ginger Hill Angus, a Certified Black Angus cattle ranch in her hometown of Washington, Virginia. Amanda also serves as Secretary of the United States Cattlemen's Association.

FOCUS

Trusts, Estates & Personal Planning

BAR ADMISSIONS

Pennsylvania

New Jersey

EDUCATION

J.D., Pennsylvania State University

B.A., The College of William & Mary

MEMBERSHIPS

Philadelphia Estate Planning Council

Secretary, United States

Cattlemen's Association

