Michael Engle is a skilled trial lawyer with more than 20 years of experience handling complex criminal cases, internal investigations and compliance matters. He also handles a variety of civil litigation matters, especially the defense of False Claims Act or qui tam actions. A fellow of the esteemed American College of Trial Lawyers, Michael regularly represents individuals, public officials and professionals, public and private companies of all sizes, nonprofits and other organizations in federal and state courts throughout the country. He also routinely represents clients in connection with grand jury subpoenas and civil investigative demands (CIDs).

Michael frequently represents clients in government inquiries involving antitrust laws, criminal/civil tax matters and criminal/civil securities cases. In addition, Michael routinely conducts investigations into matters related to employee theft and fraud, workplace injuries and deaths, as well as theft of trade secrets or confidential information. While he represents clients across a wide variety of industries, Michael has specific prior experience in environmental and health care litigation matters, as well as the defense of members of various branches of the U.S. military in connection with alleged violations of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ).

Michael also has extensive experience with matters in the area of higher education, including military academies, where he has represented students, fraternal members and organizations in connection with student conduct violation hearings, Title IX matters, and grand jury investigations. Over the years, Michael has represented a number of individuals charged with criminal offenses in high-profile cases involving allegations of hazing, and he has counseled both individuals and entities with respect to the civil and criminal liabilities associated with hazing conduct.

Michael frequently presents to clients, industry organizations and fellow lawyers on white-collar defense, grand jury matters, criminal litigation and other related topics. Michael is a past president of the Pennsylvania Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (PACDL) and currently co-leads Stradley Ronon's 70+ attorney litigation department. Michael also currently serves as the Chairperson for the American College of Trial Lawyers' Pennsylvania State Committee.

White-Collar Matters

- secured the dismissal of an indictment in the Middle District of Pennsylvania charging a prominent Michigan businessperson with wire fraud and conspiracy, which resulted in the matter being resolved in favor of a corporate guilty plea for probation and payment of restitution by an entity that was no longer actively in business
- United States v. M.R.; U.S. District Court for EDPA; obtained a dismissal of all charges relating to the alleged improper filling of two out-of-date propane cylinders, in violation of DOT Hazardous Materials regulations, that resulted in a deadly explosion on a food truck in Philadelphia. The client pled guilty to two counts of regulatory violations involving the failure to properly train and document training of two employees at a U-Haul facility he managed in 2014. Despite the government's efforts to obtain a period of incarceration, the defendant was sentenced to two years of probation, a small fine, and community service
- Commonwealth v. J.S.; Dauphin County Court of Common Pleas; defended client accused of a felony violation of the State Ethics Act in connection with the PA Office of Attorney General corruption prosecution relating to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. Client was placed into a diversionary program known as ARD, which will result in the dismissal of the criminal charge and expungement of the client's record upon successful completion of the program
- United States v. Paul Crim; U.S. District Court for EDPA; represented the only defendant who was found not guilty of conspiracy to defraud the United States in an amount exceeding $10 million in which the IRS prosecuted individuals associated with the Commonwealth Trust Company for allegedly marketing "abusive trust" tax shelters
- United States v. Nexus Technologies, et al.; U.S. District Court for EDPA; obtained two years of probation for client in first Foreign Corrupt Practices Act case in U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. The client was indicted on conspiracy, FCPA violations, and Money Laundering and Travel Act violations, and faced a Federal Sentencing Guideline range of 70 to 87 months of incarceration
- United States v. J.S.; U.S. District Court for EDPA; represented client who received a sentence of one year and one day after negotiating and substantially reducing the tax loss in a multi-year false filing of tax returns prosecution involving hundreds of thousands of dollars in unreported taxable income
- United States v. V.R.; U.S. District Court for EDPA; defended client who was facing sentencing guidelines recommending incarceration, but received a sentence of three years of probation for embezzlement of union funds
- United States v. A.G.; U.S. District Court for the District of DE; defended a foreign national client who received time served a sentence of 26 months in a multimillion-dollar identity theft and fraud scheme spanning federal districts in Delaware, Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern California

- obtained a declination of prosecution from the Department of Justice on behalf of a prominent medical doctor practicing in the Philadelphia region accused of billing fraud
- United States v. K.L.; U.S. District Court for the District of NJ; client who owned and operated a business in Southern New Jersey was charged with conspiracy to evade payroll taxes in excess of $100,000 as well as harboring illegal aliens and faced a Federal Sentencing Guideline range of 15 to 21 months of incarceration. The client was ultimately sentenced to three years of probation
- United States v. M.V.; U.S. District Court for the District of NJ; former CEO of a company based in New England was initially accused of embezzling more than $1 million. The loss was eventually demonstrated to be substantially less and negotiated down to $245,000. The client entered into a guilty plea to wire fraud. Despite facing a Federal Sentencing Guideline range of 15 to 21 months of incarceration, the client was ultimately sentenced to six months

Federal Criminal Matters

- obtained a declination of criminal prosecution in an insider trading investigation and successfully negotiated a favorable civil settlement with the SEC on behalf of a client located in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania
- United States v. Rokeleen Resto; U.S. District Court EDPA; secured an acquittal after a 10 ½ week jury trial in which the defendant was charged with kidnapping and RICO conspiracy in connection with the “Almighty Latin King and Queen Nation” racketeering case
- obtained a declination of prosecution on various alleged violations of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) on behalf of a U.S. Navy Midshipman who was able to avoid court-martial. Resolved the case with a voluntary resignation via a student conduct process allowing the client to receive a general discharge under honorable conditions from the U.S. Navy
- United States v. Terry Walker; U.S. District Court EDPA; defended individual who was the only defendant acquitted at trial of all charges brought in a 22-defendant, 194-count federal indictment involving drug and firearms charges relating to the “Alton Coles Drug Conspiracy”
- obtained a favorable sentencing in a government contracting fraud investigation that involved a client, who was sentenced to one year of unsupervised probation in the Eastern District of Virginia after having negotiated a guilty plea to one count of misprision of a felony in connection with a fraud investigation involving misrepresentations made in connection with NASA contracts
- secured a declination of criminal prosecution in a health care-related fraud matter and negotiated a consent decree with the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General, which resolved numerous alleged violations of the Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Law without any admission of liability by the client

RONON

- United States v. Joseph Serrano; U.S. District Court E.D. of PA; successfully litigated Section 2255 habeas corpus petition resulting in defendant's sentence of 151 months being vacated and a new trial ordered by the court

Civil Litigation Matters

- Secured a sweeping victory on behalf of the Philadelphia Regional Port Authority (PhilaPort) in a highly contested matter over the proposal of a new port on the Delaware River
- secured reversal at the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania of the forfeiture of a judge's state pension by the State Employees' Retirement System (SERS). After the judge pleaded guilty to two charges of violating 18 U.S.C. Section 1001 by lying to federal investigators, SERS informed him that by doing so, he forfeited his pension under the Public Employee Pension Forfeiture Act (Act 140) and that the violation of the federal statute was "substantially the same" as violating 18 Pa.C.S. Section 4906. The Pennsylvania Supreme Court ruled unanimously that the statutes were not identical, overturning the Pennsylvania Commonwealth Court's ruling and precedent set in Merlino v. Philadelphia Board of Pensions and Retirement
- successfully negotiated a no admission of liability settlement on behalf of a pharmaceutical company in connection with a civil False Claims Act matter investigated by the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. The case originated from a qui tam complaint where the government initially sought damages well in excess of $400 million. The case was resolved for approximately four percent of the initial damages assessment and a Corporate Integrity Agreement was reached with HHS-OIG that avoided any debarment or exclusion sanctions
- successful defense of a medical practice in a federal civil False Claims Act litigation involving a qui tam relator
- defense and non-trial resolution for a medical professional in response to a civil investigative demand issued in connection with a federal civil False Claims Act investigation
- successful defense of a financial services industry representative sued in a federal qui tam action
- City of Philadelphia v. Rocha; PA Commonwealth Court; Successfully appealed to PA Commonwealth Court a judgment in favor of the City of Philadelphia in a civil tax litigation matter. The appeals court reversed the judgment, which was in the amount of $707,000. Published opinion at 935 A.2d 586 (Pa. Cmwlth. 2007)
- successful defense of a multimillion-dollar civil tax action brought by Department of Justice Tax Section attorneys against an attorney's innocent spouse for failure to pay over federal income taxes
- effectuated a favorable pre-lawsuit settlement with no admission of liability in a Federal False Claims Act matter on behalf of a cardiologist in the Philadelphia region
