Dave Roeber primarily focuses his practice on counseling registered investment companies, their independent trustees/directors and investment advisers on a variety of governance, compliance and corporate matters. Dave advises clients on regulatory responsibilities under the federal securities laws, including the Investment Company Act of 1940, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002.

RESULTS

- Ongoing representation of the independent directors/trustees of mutual funds, including "manager-of-managers" funds, on routine and nonroutine matters.
- Enhanced governance programs for registered fund boards in light of industry best practices, including reviews of committee structures, committee charters and the 15(c) process.
- Provide ongoing subject-matter advice related to audit committee governance and financial reporting for registered funds, including interfacing with the staff of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
- Advised independent directors/trustees of registered funds regarding their responsibilities in connection with external reorganizations.
- Assisted in the representation of several leading global investment firms, including various board and committee matters, registration statement review and compliance, and fund reorganizations.
- Assisted with the organization and launch of unique products for otherwise open-end fund complexes, including an exchange-traded fund and an interval fund.
- Ongoing representation of a nonprofit legal services organization with respect to corporate governance matters.
- Obtained criminal record expungements for pro bono clients in New Jersey.

IN THE COMMUNITY

Dave is deeply committed to supporting communities and causes through his pro bono efforts in Camden, New Jersey, and surrounding communities. In 2014, he began volunteering with UrbanPromise, a nonprofit that helps families remove barriers to their success across several areas, serving on its corporate committee and assisting with fundraising efforts.

Dave helped to organize and launch what would become the Volunteer UP Legal Clinic, a nonprofit corporation that provides legal services to members of the community. He previously served as volunteer lead attorney and assisted with all aspects of the clinic's operations, and now serves on its advisory board and on the founding board of directors.
